

Albany Student Eyes Ice Carnival 'Throne'

Rockwood T. Roberts Jr., whose parents live at 210 Colonial Ave., is one of five Clarkson College of Technology seniors campaigning for election as "king" of the annual Clarkson-State University Teachers College ice carnival at Potsdam. The election will take place Monday.

Roberts, who represents Omicron Pi Omicron Fraternity, is a business administration student at Clarkson. He is station manager of the campus radio station, WNTC, and a member of the American Marketing Association.
